Fishing Brings New Life to Island

Plane Destroys Nhelens Publishing inc.

A Plane crash in Nhelens Destroys the Nhelens Publishing Inc Building. The airplane, an An-12, owned by Falcon Air lost Radio Contact as it was coming in to Coldwater airport, Shortly after that, the plane went into a steep dive, and just recovered before it hit the ground, but sadly it ploughed straight into the Nhelens Publishing Inc building. The Pilot and co-pilot survived the crash, but the Co-pilot later died in hospital due to severe burns sustained in the crash.

13 other people that were onboard the bus near the crash also sustained minor injuries, There will be a full investigation by the IIAA.

Fishing Industry Brings Life to Island

Recently, a Major fishing company has been set up in Island, A local resident said “Island was a dying region, but with the new company life is coming back to here”, The first scheduled bus route has even been set up, moving the fisherman from the port to the airport.

Vehicle Tests

These are the newest vehicles up for testing, Below you can see what we put them through.

Deer Test: We put the vehicle on the runway at Nhelens, and get up to 70 MPH, then turn the wheel full left, then full right, if the vehicle rolls over, it fails, The vehicle is then checked to see if the occupants would survive.

Safety: Vehicle is driven into a building at a speed of 50 MPH, results are based on whether the occupants would survive.

Comfort: Vehicle is driven off-road whilst the camera is located inside the vehicle, results are based on how much body shake and cab movement there is.

Looks: Vehicle is judged on how it looks by an independent judge.

Fun: Vehicle is driven on different sorts of terrain, and judged how much fun it is to drive.

Power: Vehicle pulls the An-12, and is judged on how fast it can get it from a stop to 30 MPH.

All testing is done by T.S.V.T.B
